THE COMMUNITY

Early County, Georgia, established in 1818, was carved from Creek Indian lands and named for Governor Peter Early, with Blakely serving as the county seat and “Peanut Capital of the World.” Initially much larger, the county is now historically significant for housing the Kolomoki Mounds State Park, a major Woodland Indian ceremonial complex, and the Coheelee Creek Covered Bridge, the southernmost original covered bridge in the U.S. Early County, predominantly an agricultural community, is home to approximately 10,683 residents.

Notice of Disclosure:

At least 14 calendar days prior to the meeting at which final action or vote is to be taken on the position of superintendent, all documents concerning as many as three persons under consideration whom the board has determined to be the best qualified for the position shall be subject to inspection and copying. The board can vote on the appointment at any time after the 14-day period.
